Dear Colleagues:

July 23, 2009

I have practiced over 24 years now, and have seen many natural health products boom and bust. Despite all the fads and hype, there is the occasional treasure. I would like to introduce a clinical pearl of great value.

You may be aware that I have for over a decade recommended grapeseed extract as a core remedy in many of my cancer protocols. The oligomeric proanthocyanidins - OPCs - are clinically very important for many reasons, which I have detailed in my books and lectures. I was first introduced to pycnogenol from pine bark as a source of the OPCs. Dr. Allen Tyler, ND, MD learned of them from Professor Masquelier, and taught me they can protect and repair the delicate vascular endothelium of veins and arteries. Later grapeseed extract proved to be a richer source of OPCs at a better price. I have taken OPC capsules daily for over 16 years.

I became aware of Global Health Source Canada (GHSC) several years ago through their R&D partner Omega Biotech. They are based here in Victoria where I live and practice. They provided my dispensary with an excellent skin care product made with their really exceptional grapeseed extract Protovin™. Protovin™ is made from the skins and seeds of white grapes from a specific vineyard near Mt. St. Helens. Testing of grapes from all over the world showed this vineyard, enriched by recent volcanic activity, produced a varietal yielding the maximum amount of OPCs. Through years of research, their doctors and scientists have perfected an extraction process, such that the final grapeseed OPC and resveratrol combination has the best ORAC values ever achieved. It is so potent, they can even make from it a tannin-free, tasteless beverage grade OPC with full antioxidant power. It is absolutely the best in the world, and they can prove it. Unfortunately for us here in Canada, they have had no difficulty selling almost all of this fabulous product overseas, for wholesale re-manufacture into various health products.

GHSC and Omega Biotech, and their medical doctors, have been working these last several years to develop a world-class paraben-free skin product with Protovin™. Now called Nutra-cream™, it also contains alpha lipoic acid, vitamin A, MSM, CoQ10, DMAE, EDTA, essential oils, and many other brilliant natural components. It bears an uncanny resemblance to a list of ingredients I discussed for skin cancer prevention in my first book on naturopathic cancer care. They have wisely coupled this topical product with internal dosing of the Protovin™ OPC and resveratrol combination in capsules. They call this program NASOBIIH™ - “Naturally Accelerated System for Outer Beauty and Inner Health”. The core NASOBIIH™ program is complemented by a lighter day cream, to continue the protection and healing of the skin.

We all want to slow aging, prevent cancer and other chronic diseases, and look good in the process. I am giving the capsules to all of my cancer patients, and recommend it to everyone to protect and restore cardiovascular health. I am using the products myself, and can report a rapid and significant improvement in my sun-damaged skin, including some pre-cancerous lesions. My patients love this simple and effective system for health and beauty. It offers great value – which to me means both excellent price and performance.

The Company is seeking naturopathic doctors in all regions to stock their system in their dispensaries, as people all over the Province are finding out about it and are seeking a retail point of purchase. Feel free to contact me for more information on how to obtain and use NASOBIIH™. Please visit www.NASOBIIH.com and their booth at the BCNA Conference October 16 to 18th. Look good, feel good, and prosper!

Yours truly,

Neil McKinney, ND
